

Name: _____

How development Is measured

Across

- 2. how much food a person eats, their education, income etc are also referred to as development what?
- 6. Characteristics of a persons wellbeing can be measured by?
- 8. What is one factor that GNI is increased by
- 10. What economic state would people working in the dumps of mumbai be in?
- 11. What is GNI measured in?
- 12. What are indicators that aren't influenced by personal feelings and interpretations

- 15. what is one concept word that can be used to describe how development is measured
- 16. the largest HDI is 0.586. Which country is this statistic from?
- 17. when measuring development indicators can be what?
- 18. What are indicators that place emphasis on moods, attitudes and opinions

Down

- 1. What is the measure of the total value of goods and services produced by the citizens and corporations of a country in a given year

- 3. What is a more modern version of GNP
- 4. name one indicator that HDI compiles to create an overall statistic
- 5. How much food a person eats, their education, income etc are what of a persons well being that can be measured
- 7. name another indicator that HDI compiles to create an overall statistic
- 9. our case studies HDI is 0.560. What is our case study country?
- 13. indicators of development have several what?
- 14. what continent has the lowest HDI (Human Development Index)