

Human Resources Terminology

Across

3. appraisal that occurs periodically and conducted by manager and decides the achievement based on his/her's performance

5. schedule chosen and adapted to the employee agreed by him/her

8. relocating a business to another country

9. training employees within the work place while they conduct their job

10. this appraisal involves employees evaluating their own performance to set new targets for themselves

12. training that allows employees to exercise and develop mental skills to improve general productivity and performance

13. working from home via online

15. this appraisal involves getting multiple feedback from various co-workers and subordinates

16. a process that ensures an organisation to strategically plan and evaluate qualified employees to achieve its goals

17. type of appraisal that takes place continuously to identify employee's strengths and weakness to improve performance

Down

1. training that seeks improvement of repetitive employee habits in the work place

2. termination of an employment against the employees will

4. employee training outside the organisation

6. rate that employees leave the company and get substituted by new staff

7. obtaining goods or services from an outside source

11. unemployment due to work unavailability

14. the process of hiring employees and assigning them a place within the company