

Humanizing Psychology

Across

5. Building blocks of Maslow's pyramid.

6. We fill these kinds of needs or we start to get sick.

8. The kind of leadership that Rogers steered away from but was studied in the well-known shock and prison experiments.

9. Another descriptor Maslow used to refer to peak experiences (in other words, a word he used in place of the word "peak")

10. Likely to claim failing a test was due to situational circumstances.

14. The second kind of need required to be met before moving up in Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs.

16. This branch of psychology is cousin to clinical psychology.

18. Name of a leading theorist in humanistic psychology and someone he deemed "self-actualized".

19. The kind of behavior caused by the situation/environment.

20. Known for his client-centered therapy.

Down

1. Weighing situational attributes more heavily than dispositional attributes.

2. German neurologist; claimed performance is holistic.

3. Located in Boston – Maslow taught here.

4. The way humans refer to the source or cause of their actions.

7. The kind of behavior caused by the person's disposition or abilities.

11. Roger's method of listening; satirically thought of as parroting.

12. Self actualization is a _____ need.

13. Predecessor to what is now known as PTSD.

15. Rogers theorized that tension between this version of the self and the "actual" self could become a source of anxiety which could potentially turn into psychopathology.

17. A branch of psychology that was Division 12 in the APA.