

Industrial Revolution

Across

- 2. Caused by the Industrial revolution. It is the desire for government control.
- 3. Boss (vocab)
- 6. Four needs: The need of factors of production. Political and Economical Stability. Also, a large population.
- 10. Society is equal. Karl Marx thought of this in the 1840s.
- 11. Since there were no safety regulations, people were gravely ill and unsafe in the factories. This caused a desire of a mixed economy and a labor union.
- 12. Land, Labor, and Wealth. One of the reasons that Britain witnessed the first industrial revolution.

- 15. The need of children (as young as four or five) decreased chances of education, risked the future, and caused a labor union against the businesses to try to push back the age of children in factories.
- 16. Rapid increase of industry and goods made by machines in the 1700s and 1800s. Started first in GB.
- 17. The idea of a market economy. Allowed businesses to make the maximum amount of money.

- 5. An invention that sparked in the industrial revolution, and it caused production of clothes to be faster
- 7. Lots of workers went on strike, where they refused to work. It resulted in no money being made.
- 8. Increase in agricultural production because of new farming technology. Population increased and there was less starvation, leading to the industrial rev. in Britain.
- 9. Sunday (vocab)
- 13. An invention, created by Samuel Morse, that made a communication connection between America and Europe. It also resulted in the Morse code.
- 14. Made the air unhealthy, which in return caused the living conditions to be bad in a city.

Down

- 1. Lasting effect from industrial revolution. Controlled by both the government and the people.
- 4. Movement of people from rural areas to cities. Needs of Factories > Farm Labor

Word Bank

- Mixed Economy
- Capitalism
- Textile
- Communism
- Socialism
- overseer

- Danger
- Child Labor
- Factors of Production
- Urbanization
- Agricultural Rev
- Strike

- Pollution
- Sabbath
- Industrial Rev
- Industrialize
- Telegraph