

Name: _____

Date: _____

Instrument Discovery

Across

2. A woodwind instrument that uses a reed, and most commonly gets tuned to B flat
4. Usually known as a bigger violin, but it is so much more than that
8. A really big brass instrument with a bass register
9. A higher pitched double reed woodwind instrument
10. A large family of instruments that keep the rhythm of the orchestra
12. Commonly known as French, but it is actually German

13. An lower pitched instrument with a slide that changes the notes

15. A small, really high pitched woodwind instrument

17. The highest pitched brass instrument used in this modern age

Down

1. The most common instrument in the orchestra

3. A lower pitched double reed woodwind instrument

5. Currently not accepted in the symphonic orchestral family

6. A woodwind instrument that one holds to the side of their mouth

7. A brass instrument that looks like a smaller tuba, and acts like one too

11. Usually known as a large violin that you hold between your legs

14. A huge violin with pitches lower than the other string instruments

16. A large group of instruments banded together to play beautiful music