

International and Intercultural Aspects of Voice and Voice Disorders

Across

- 2. Voice therapy involves a strong _____ perceptual basis for changing vocal behavior
- 4. The goal of the _____ is to optimize respiratory- phonatory connection and improve vocal fold closure
- 5. A voice can be considered _____ when an alteration in its production impairs social and professional communication.
- 6. _____ is a term employed in cases of specific vocal demands
- 8. Normal voice is the result of an air stream driving the _____ into vibration through a series of resonance chambers.

9. _____ is one of the most important expression of a human being and his or her culture

10. _____ approach is the holistic treatment with refraining and rebalancing breathing, phonation, and resonance subsystems.

Down

- 1. _____ is used as an indicator of age.
- 3. _____ voice is when after therapy does not always reach an optimal level, which includes aspects of dysphonia.
- 7. The term _____ refers to a restriction or lack of ability to perform a daily task.