

Name: _____

Date: _____

Lesson 22.1 Vocab

Across

2. These prohibit compulsory union membership and ban the union shop, closed shop, and agency shop.

4. Indicates the worker wants to be represented by a particular union.

8. An injunction issued after only one side of an argument is heard, typically the employer's.

9. The NLRB can conduct this if management denies voluntary recognition.

10. The employer agrees that workers must belong to the recognized union before they can be hired.

11. The NLRB can conduct this if a union has been certified and later 30% of the employees decide they want different or no representation.

12. A variation of the union shop in which employees who don't join the union must pay union dues.

Down

1. Contract that states that an employee can be fired if they join a union.

3. Within a unionized company, any group of employees whose employment contract is negotiated together.

5. The NLRB acknowledges a union as the exclusive bargaining agent.

6. Non-union employees may be hired, but they must join the union within a stated maximum period (30 days).

7. Employees are not required to join the union or pay union dues.