

Name: _____ Date: _____

Literary Terms Review

Across

3. the writer shows (not tells) a character's traits

6. language that appeals to the five senses

10. background information at the start of the story

11. the universal message or lesson a story engages with

12. end of the story where loose ends are tied up

13. the series of conflicts that build a story toward a climax

14. the audience's emotional reaction

Down

1. the writer clearly states a character's traits in the text

2. events after the climax, leading to the resolution

4. a device in literature where an object represents an idea

5. uncertainty and curiosity about what will happen next

7. the sequence of events in a story

8. a writer's attitude toward the subject matter revealed through word choice

9. the turning point of the story