

MOD 120 UNIT ONE

Across

4. pain associated with continued flexion and extension of wrist
 6. dentist physically being present while performing a delegated function
 9. a finger rest used when one holds an instrument or hand piece for a specified time
 10. supervision overseeing an assistant's work by working in the immediate area
 11. vertical seated position in which the back of the dental chair is upright at a 90 degree angle
 14. slime producing bacterial communities that may also harbor fungi algae and protozoa
 15. injuries caused by sudden twisting or wrenching of a joint with stretching or tearing of ligaments

16. concept which the face of a clock is used to position the dental team equipment and supplies
 17. a foot controlled device used to operate dental hand pieces
 18. reach created by a sweep of the forearm with the upper arm held at the side
 19. process by which liquid is removed by vapor
 20. painful conditions that result from ongoing stresses to muscles tendons nerves joints

Down

1. injuries caused by extreme stretching of muscles or ligaments
 2. Reach created when the upper arm is fully extended

3. Reach created by a verticle sweep of the forearm while elbow is kept at midtoro level
 5. specific intraoral function delegated to an auxiliary that requires advanced skill and training
 7. having an immune system that is weakened
 8. use of membrane filters to trap microorganisms suspended in water
 12. a lying down position which patients head chest and knees are at the same level
 13. adaptation of work environment and tasks to the human body