

MT Communication Skills

Across

- 6. individual or group who sends or originates the message
- 7. method or medium in which the message is sent
- 9. process of selecting the appropriate channel of communication for message delivery
- 10. process of transforming information to be conveying into a transferrable form

- 11. process of mentally processing a message
- 13. response of the receiver to the message

Down

- 1. target of the message
- 2. exchange of thoughts, opinions or information by speech, writing or behavior
- 3. process involving the reception of the sender's message by the receiver
- 4. process where the source or sender generates the information intended to be shared with others
- 5. response the receiver offers to the message
- 8. thought, idea, opinion, etc. which the sender has encoded and wants conveyed
- 12. term describing anything which disrupts the communication process