

Name: _____

Date: _____

Maps Skills Vocabulary Crossword

Across

6. the most southern line of latitude, at which the sun can be directly overhead

7. line of longitude that is 0 degrees and determines east and west, running through Greenwich England

9. the most northern line of latitude, at which the sun can be overhead

11. an imaginary line drawn around the earth equal distance from both poles, dividing the earth into Northern and Southern Hemispheres and is the parallel of latitude 0 degrees.

12. the most southern part of the earth

13. an imaginary line crossing through the Pacific Ocean at 180 degrees longitude, to the east of which, by international agreement, the calendar date is one day earlier than on the west

Down

1. imaginary lines around the earth running parallel to the equator

2. another name for lines of longitude

3. a round spherical representation of the earth

4. imaginary lines around the earth passing through the North and South poles at a right angle to the equator

5. another name for lines of latitude

8. an extremely large body of water

10. the most northern part of the earth