Name:	Date:
-------	-------

Math 8 Weekly #5

Across

- 5. the exponent property that tells us to subtract our exponents
- 11. the tiny number that tells you how many times to multiply the base
- 12. the answer to a problem is called the
- 13. an expression separated from the rest of the expression by a plus or minus sign
- 14. the way of writing a value or expression so that it contains exponents
- 15. the exponent property that tell us to add the exponents

16. a number in front of a term that is being multiplied, it is usually in front of a variable

Down

- 1. the distance a number is from 0
- 2. a letter seen in an expression or equation that represents an unknown
- 3. a way of expressing very large or very small numbers by writing it as a number between 1 and 10, times a power of 10
- 4. positive and negative whole numbers, including 0

- 6. this means to combine like terms and write the answer as simple as possible
- 7. a combination of numbers and symbols that express a quantity without an equal sign
- 8. a statement that two expressions are equal
- 9. the exponent property that tells us to multiply our exponents
- 10. a number that is being raised to a power, this number is the one that gets multiplied a certain number of times