Name: _____   Date: _____   Period: _____

Math Vocabulary

Across

6. The ratio of two measurements in which the second term is 1.

8. A tool that breaks down any number into its prime factors.

9. A form that non-whole numbers can be written in, with the basic form a/b.

10. It tells you what to calculate first, second, third and so on, until the calculation is complete.

11. A relationship between two numbers indicating how many times the first number contains the second.

12. A realtionship between 2 variables where 1 variable equals the second one times a number

13. Organize an algebra problem that contains multiple groups.

Down

1. A realtionship between 2 variables where 1 variable equals the second one times a number

2. A standard order of operations for calculations involving more than one arithmetic operation.

3. The determination of the set of prime numbers which multiply together to give the original integer

4. A number expressed as a fraction of 100.

5. writing the significant digits of a large number and using words for the place value.

7. A symbole that represents odd positions or values