

Motor Development Crossword

Across

2. Individuals movement ability gradually progresses
 3. Clark and Metcalfe developed the
 7. The processes based by which children attempt to interpret new experiences based on their present interpretation of the world
 17. Case study of extreme isolation
 19. The establishment of the minimum characteristics necessary for a particular human behavior to be acquired
 21. often called a "sensitive period" is a time when specific conditions or stimuli are required for optimal, or even typical, development to ensure or a "developmental window"
 22. What element of developmental change may not always be progressive or a positive change
 24. Thought of as understanding a procedure, or how to do something; that is, "knowing how"

25. The human power "to stabilize and return" to a predetermined behavior or growth pattern "after being pushed off trajectory"
 26. BMI or

27. from head to the tail
 28. The first stage of Piaget's theory

Down

1. Emphasizes the movement itself
 4. Thought of as factual information or an awareness of something
 5. The second stage of Piaget's theory
 6. The third stage of Piaget's theory
 8. Early-stimulation program learning to play the violin
 9. from those points close to the body's center to those points close to the periphery, or farthest from the body's center
 10. Approach measuring the end result
 11. Adjusting to the demands of the environment

12. The profession from gross, immature movement to precise, well-controlled, intentional movement (walking)
 13. What is the first period of the Mountain of Motor Development?
 14. Case study studying the effects of early stimulation
 15. Governed by the small muscles or muscle groups
 16. Primarily controlled by the large muscles or muscle groups
 18. The forth stage of Piaget's theory
 20. The ability to arrange a set of items by a certain characteristic
 23. A case of living in the wild