Name: _____

Ms. Cardenas Reading Class

Across
2. What annotation strategy do you use for expository?
4. You always annotate for?
5. What do you always label for poems?
10. When you read a question you always label what first?
12. what point of you do they use he, she, and they?
14. How many text evidence do you need for a summary questions?
15. Where the story takes place?
18. What type of poem makes you laugh?
19. Who is the narrator of Walk Two Moons?
20. What type of poem does not rhyme?
21. For poem you label lines and ?
23. Theme is also known as the ?
25. What point of view do they use I, Me, We?

Down
1. True or False? You have to write a main idea for each paragraph.
3. What type of poem rhymes?
6. What point of view do they use you and your ?
7. What type of poem is written like a story?
8. What do you always label first in any text?
9. This genre gives us informational facts?
11. What book are we reading right now?
13. What you read + what you already know = ?
16. This genre has lines and stanzas?
17. What strategy do you need for a summary question?
22. A lesson learned is known as?
24. What annotation strategy do you use for fiction?

Word Bank

Expository	Sal	second person	three	Inference
ADT	UCLA	Theme	Text Features	Where and what humerous	third person	lyrical	narrative	First Person
stanzas	main idea	free verse	BME	Poetry
Message	False	lines	Setting	Walk Two Moons