

Name: _____

Date: _____

NEWBORN

Across

2. blueness of hands feet of newborn after delivery due to high hemoglobin level-normal phenomenon

5. occurs when you stroke the sole of the foot and big toe dorsiflexes and toes flare; Birth - ends before walking

7. unossified spaces or soft spots on the cranium of an infant; protect head during delivery and allow for brain growth in first 1 1/2 yrs

8. infant draw up legs and arms fan out & then come toward midline when this is done (startled like if hands clapped near infant or crib jarred suddenly)

9. prancing movements of legs seen when infant is held upright on the examining table birth to 4-5 months

11. surgical removal of foreskin on penis

13. cheese like substance that covers skin of newborn; made of cells and glandular secretions; thought to protect the skin from irritation and the effects of a watery environment in utero

Down

1. milia type lesions on the midline of the hard palate caused by collection of epithelial cells

3. dark blue or slate grey discolorations found mostly in lumbosacral area; caused by melatonin deposits in dark skinned persons; gradually disappears in few years

4. causes infant's head to turn in direction of anything touching cheeks anticipating food; use to help with breast feeding; Birth to 4 months

6. dark, thick, sticky, first stool of baby

10. fine hair covering baby at birth; disappears during first week of life; more evident in premie babies

12. white pinpoint pimples caused by obstruction of sebaceous glands seen on nose & chin of infant