

NF Unit 12 - Physical Assessment

Across

4. Numbness or tingling as reported by the patient
5. Low-pitched continuous bubbling; heard during expiration and may clear with deep breathing or coughing
9. Whistling sounds heard thru narrow passages; during inspiration and expiration
10. In what order does a nurse perform a physical assessment?
12. The part of the physical assessment that includes interviewing or asking questions of the patient.

14. What type of check includes checking the pulse, color, temperature, edema, capillary refill, pain, paresthesia, and paralysis?
15. What type of assessment is a systematic examination of body structures?

16. Pupil equal, round, and reactive to light and accommodation

Down

1. Harsh grating sound due to inflamed, edematous pleural surfaces rubbing together during breathing
2. What is the first step of the nursing process?

3. What type of bowel sounds are heard after long periods of silence?
6. What type of bowel sounds are heard continuously?
7. Loss of function; reported by the patient and observed by the nurse
8. An increased curvature of the thoracic spine.
11. The part of the physical assessment that includes inspection, palpation, percussion, auscultation, and olfaction
13. High-pitched, popping sound heard during inspiration