

Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome

Across

2. Medication commonly used to ease NAS

3. One of these lab tests should be sent on every baby exposed in-utero, hopefully collected with the first void

7. Comfort strategy - box or diamond type

10. Adjunct medication used to treat NAS

12. Excessive rubbing of the skin due to irritability can lead to this

13. Possible consequence for uncontrolled withdrawal

14. Referral should be made to this person for every baby admitted with NAS in order to assess Mom's support needs

15. Term to describe when a baby exhibits pronounced jitteriness of the hands during or at the end of the moro reflex

Down

1. Some people addicted to opiates will turn to this street drug as a cheaper alternative to buying pain pills

4. Used to treat opioid addiction in adults, also known as buprenorphine

5. the name of the scoring system used to determine severity of NAS symptoms

6. NAS babies that do this are not cold and shivering

8. The analgesic compound found in pain control medications such as oxycodone and morphine.

9. Good Samaritan supplies this vanilla scented comfort measure to our NAS patients

11. Score 2-3 points for high pitched and/or _____ crying