Network Topology

Across

5. What is it called when an a arrangement of a network includes nodes and lines?

6. The way of connecting computers together in a LAN?

7. A set of rules which is a procedure of the system?

9. A hardware identification number that uniquely identifies each device on a network ?remember its not related to Apple

10. What is it called when you connect to a network allowing you to communicate to others?

11. What is it when all nodes are connected to one central unit in a big group?

Down

1. What is it called when you convert information or data into a code to protect it?

2. What is it called when the infrastructure nodes connect directly in a topology?

3. A transmission which a message is broken into parts which are sent independently and reassembled at the destination?

4. The organization of programming in a hierarchical way?

8. A string of numbers that identifies each computer ?