

Number the Stars Vocab 1 - 6

Across

3. Her fingers moved rapidly, turning the thin white thread into an _____, narrow border.

5. "You will not object if we look around." The voice was _____, and it was not a question.

8. She reached down for Kirsti's hand, but Kirsti, always stubborn, refused it and put her hands on her hips _____ly.

11. Kirsti pouted, and it was clear that she was about to argue. "Mama will tell you a special story tonight," her mother said. "One just for you." "About a king?" Kirsti asked _____. [because she was suspicious]

12. After Annemarie scoffs at Kirst, saying she didn't see the fireworks, Kirsti says: "I did too," she said _____ly.

13. Stand still, Kirsti, Annemarie ordered silently, praying that somehow the _____ five-year-old would receive the message.

15. "Halte!" the soldier ordered in a _____ voice.

16. He was a tall teenager with thick glasses, stooped shoulders, and _____ hair.

17. And he never _____ed anymore. [Peter never stayed for longer anymore.]

Down

1. Mama opened the package and took out a pair of little girl's shoes. She held them up, and Kirsti looked away in _____.

2. [Ellen] was a stocky ten-year-old, unlike _____ Annemarie.

4. It is their way of _____ing. For some reason, they want to _____ Jewish people.

6. Ellen swallowed. "Lise," she said, and cleared her throat. "Lise Johansen." The officer stared at them _____.

7. Kirsti _____d just behind them or scampered ahead, never out of their sight.

9. Thinking of Lise, her _____, lovely sister, always made her sad. [Lise was a serious person]

10. Annemarie felt completely safe here in her own home, with her parents in the next room and her best friend asleep beside her. She yawned _____ and closed her eyes.

14. "Are you a good student?" the soldier asked. He seemed to be _____ing.