

Name: _____

Orchestral String Instruments

Across

2. This string instrument is larger than a violin, but smaller than a cello.

6. The long black part of a string instrument.

10. This string instrument is bigger than a viola, but smaller than a string bass.

11. The smallest instrument in the orchestral string family.

12. The things right below the scroll that you use to tune an instrument.

13. This string instrument is so large that you have to stand up to play it.

15. The curly part at the end of a string instrument.

Down

1. The part of a string instrument that holds up the strings.

3. What string instruments are made out of.

4. Something that cellos and basses have that violins and violas don't have.

5. What you put your instrument in when you are done playing.

7. The thing a string player holds in their right hand.

8. Something that violins and violas have that cellos and basses don't have.

9. The stuff you put on a bow to make it sticky.

14. The part of a string instrument that is also the name of a body part.