

Name: _____

Date: _____

Parvana

Across

2. Afghan bread—flat, sometimes long and sometimes round.

6. Duration without beginning or end

10. A long, tent-like garment, which the Taliban have decreed women must wear whenever they go outside. It covers them completely and even has a narrow mesh screen over the eyes.

13. An intricate combination of paths or passages in which it is difficult to find one's way or to reach an exit

14. A gray or brown woolen blanket shawl worn by Afghan men and boys

17. A mode or system of rule or government

18. A Moslem festival coming at the end of Ramadan, the month of fasting.

19. A narrow mattress.

20. A cart on wheels, pushed by hand, used to sell things in the market.

Down

1. An Afghan hat

3. A bomb planted in the ground, which explodes if it is stepped on.

4. Writer of Parvana.

5. Loose shirt and trousers

7. Members of the ruling party in Afghanistan.

8. A man's headdress worn chiefly by Muslims in southern Asia, consisting of a long cloth made of silk, linen, cotton, etc. Wound directly around head or about a cap

9. A person who flees for refuge or safety. Especially from foreign countries

11. One of the two main languages spoken in Afghanistan.

12. The act of uniting two or more things.

15. Pieces of meat on a skewer, cooked over a fire.

16. A piece of cloth worn by women and girls to cover their hair and shoulders. Girls wear this outside.