

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Psychology Crossword puzzle

Across

- 4. refers to the use of a descriptive research approach to obtain an in-depth analysis of a person, group, or phenomenon.
- 5. is the process of selecting a representative group from the population under study
- 6. a term referring to the mental processes involved in gaining knowledge and comprehension.
- 7. The measure of a relationship b/w 2 variables or sets of data
- 9. something given to a person that has no physical effect on that person, even though they may think that it does.

- 10. An assumption or prediction about behavior or educated guess about the relationship between 2 variables that is tested through scientific research
- 11. a research method in which information is obtained by asking many individuals a fixed set of questions about their attitudes or behaviors
- 12. a research method in which data are collected from groups of participants of different ages and compared so that conclusions can be drawn about differences due to another group

Down

- 1. an observational research method in which data is gathered for the same subjects repeatedly over a period of time.
- 2. research method is a specific research procedure in which the researchers (and those involved in the study) do not tell the participants if they are being given a test treatment or a control treatment.
- 3. This technique involves observing subjects in their natural environment.
- 8. a method of self-observation in which participants report on their thoughts and feelings