

Name: _____

Date: _____

Psychology crossword

Across

5. Where information is received and encoded
 7. A prompt that is involved to recovering information
 8. Where visual information is put in the sensory memory
 10. The information that was last processed
 11. Where large amounts of information are stored
 12. The process where something is repeatedly gone over to be memorised

13. Converting information into certain forms

14. Stores sounds in sensory memory

15. The information first processed

16. When a smaller bit of information is combined to create larger ones

17. The suggestion that physical changes occur with the brain when information is going from STM to LTM

Down

1. Storing information in the memory where and when required

2. The entry point of the memory system

3. Searching and finding information

4. Information being sectioned into certain groups

6. Identification of a particular piece or multiple pieces of information

9. The information retrieved from LTM