

Rad Tech Week 2018

Across

- 3. This is used in Fluoroscopic studies to highlight the bowel for UGI and small bowel studies.
- 5. The target of an X-ray tube is made from _____.
- 8. These are precious, made with lead, and a tech will dig through trash to recover them.
- 10. Large body parts, such as L5/S1 spot film, require a _____.

- 11. The tungsten radiation target is in the _____ of an X-ray tube.
- 12. Last name of the person that discovered X-rays, accidentally, making our profession possible?
- 13. mAs is an acronym for _____.
- 14. What body part was the first X-ray of?
- 15. What is the degree of density differences between two areas on a radiograph?

Down

- 1. Attenuation of radiation is due to _____.
- 2. kVp is an acronym for _____?
- 4. The filament is in the _____ of the X-ray tube.
- 6. The X-ray beam radiates from the _____ on a C-arm.
- 7. If something is non-cancerous, it is _____.
- 9. This is used to focus or narrow a beam of waves.