

Name: _____

Date: _____

Reading Comprehension

Across

3. What is it called when students fill out information that isn't directly given?
4. Teachers can reinforce learnings about the text features by asking these.
6. What representation of activation does the discussion help focus on?
9. Relating one topic or text to another is what?
10. How many points is "You be the Expert" worth?

Down

1. When making connections within the text, you are relating to what experiences?
2. When you are making predictions, you are activating what knowledge?
5. When you are making predictions, you are activating what knowledge?
7. Students must use _____ features to understand how the author organized the content.
8. What draft was due last week?
11. You be the _____.