

Romeo and Juliet

Across

3. A play for theater, radio or television

6. A figure of speech in which an animal, object, natural force, or idea is given a personality and described as human

8. The female protagonist

9. A speech given about someone that has died.

10. One of the principal divisions of a theatrical work (such as a play or opera) monologue, a long, uninterrupted speech presented in front of other characters

11. The male protagonist

14. Town in which the play is set.

15. Exile

Down

1. English playwright that wrote Romeo and Juliet.

2. A speech in which a character is alone on stage and expresses thoughts out loud

4. Title of the man that marries Romeo and Juliet

5. A long, uninterrupted speech presented in front of other characters

7. The city that Romeo is banished to.

12. Figure of speech that combines apparently contradictory terms

13. The man that Lady and Lord Capulet chose to marry Juliet