

Science Vocab Crossword

Across

4. This is the measurement of the amount of matter in an object.
 6. This is the material that makes up everything in our universe.
 7. This is the tendency of fluid to resist flow.
 11. This is the condition or degree of hotness or temperature.
 12. This is the temperature scale with the lowest theoretically possible temperature of zero point, which is also known as absolute zero.

13. This is the temperature scale with a melting point of 100 degrees and a freezing point of zero degrees.
 14. This is the mass of a certain volume of a particular substance. Usually measured in grams per cubic centimeter.
 15. This is the measurement of how hot or cold something is.
 16. This is the temperature scale with a melting point of 212 degrees and a freezing point of 32 degrees.

Down

1. This is a material made up of matter. Its pure forms include elements and compounds.

2. This is the measurement of the force of gravity on an object.
 3. This means incapable of being mixed.
 5. This is the process or act of calibrating an instrument.
 8. This is the amount of space that an object takes up.
 9. This is the increase in volume of a certain matter when it is heated.
 10. This is the lowest theoretically possible temperature where the particles are not moving.