

Name: _____

Score and Slip

Across

1. Clay projects that have been formed and are ready to be fired
2. Coil of clay when bent does NOT crack and is very moldable
4. Describes art that is used to perform a task or function
10. The greek word for Potters Clay
12. A thick and creamy mix of clay and water used for joining clay parts together or for decorating the surface. Applied before firing, when the clay is still wet.
16. Clay comes in different colors but in the KIHS ceramic studio what type of clay is the brown clay

17. A piece of clay that is a flat even piece of clay

19. Second firing of the clay with a coating of glaze upon its surface.

20. The water element in the chemical name for clay

Down

3. Describes art that is made mainly to be looked at (or felt)
5. What is the best stage of clay for score and slip
6. Ground up bits of bisqueware used as an additive in claybodies to make them stronger, reduce shrinkage, and aid drying.
7. A LOW-FIRE clay that is the most porous and absorbs the most water

8. First firing of the clay. Removes the water and carbon from the clay so it can never be recycled

9. Marking scratching marks in clay before attaching to another piece of clay

11. How flat clay crystals look under a microscope

13. A HIGH-FIRE clay that has become totally non-absorbent and glass-like.

14. A furnace used to fire a ceramic work

15. A rope like piece of clay

18. Clay that is room temperature, completely dried out, without any moisture