

Name: _____

Soch Milkha Soch

Across

3. The level of stimulation required to trigger a neural impulse.
11. A condition of mild to severe intellectual disability and associated physical disorders caused by an extra copy of chromosome 21.
12. A mental grouping of similar objects, events, ideas or people.
15. The body's speedy electrochemical communication network consisting of all the nerve cells.
16. A type of learning that occurs but is not apparent until there is an incentive to demonstrate it.
17. A mental image or best example of a category.

18. A complex behaviour that is rigidly patterned throughout a species and is unlearned.

19. A type of amnesia that is an inability to form new memories.

20. A neural centre located in limbic system; helps process explicit memories for storage.

Down

1. Organizing items into familiar, manageable units; often occurs automatically.

2. Cells in nervous systems that support, nourish and protect neurons; also may play a role in learning and thinking.

4. Tissue destruction; naturally or experimentally caused destruction of brain tissue.

5. A test designed to assess what a person has learned.

6. A mental representation of the layout of one's environment.

7. The post-experimental explanation of a study, including its purpose and any deceptions, to its participants.

8. Maslow's pyramid of human needs

9. The extent to which we perceive control over our environment.

10. A need or desire that energizes and directs behaviour.

13. Endocrine system's most influential gland.

14. Freud and Rosenman's term for easy-going, relaxed people.