

Name: _____ Date: _____

Solve This Yourself!

Across

2. Relational Database Management
 4. To Back Up an Access
 6. A basic entity, data element, or category, such as a book title or telephone
 12. Data contained in a single page or
 13. Relational Database
 14. A complete set of all of the data about one person, place, event, or
 15. The amount of time it takes for the storage device to make the file content available for
 20. The source field that you assign to group data horizontally in a crosstab
 21. Reduces the size of the database and eliminates wasted

22. An interface that enables you to enter or modify record

23. Create a duplicate copy of the

25. A collection of

Down

1. A file that consists of one or more tables and the supporting objects used to get data into and out of the
 3. The field that makes each record in a table
 5. A database object that enables you to ask questions about the data stored in a database and returns the answers in the order from the records that match your
 7. Flat or Non-Relational

8. A computer application, such as Microsoft Access, that is used to store data and convert it into useful

9. Compact and Repair Database

10. The data field that you assign to group data vertically into

11. A field in one table that also is stored in a different table as a primary

16. Access

17. Data is grouped into similar collections, called tables, and the relationships between tables are formed by using a common

18. Foreign

19. A printed document that displays information professionally from a

24. Primary