

SwinePros!

Across

3. Something used to treat open wounds on the sow

5. The most common method for permanent pig identification

7. During this, the sow will show agitation, restlessness, frequently urinate, and have a swollen vulva

10. What is the typical ingredient in a lactation diet for a sow?

11. What are the most common diarrheas caused by in the intestinal tract?

13. One of the maternal behaviors sows show when they are close to farrowing that can involve: biting, raking, nuzzling

14. A young female pig that has not been bred yet

15. Watery, yellowish stool, a common problem for piglets

17. Used when a sow is constipated or not pooping regularly

18. Something piglets lay on when they are first born to help them stay warm

Down

1. The amount of food given to the sow in the pre-farrowing period

2. The smallest piglet of the litter - common cause of death

4. The surgical removal of the testicles

6. The process of preventing anemia, controlling scours, notching ears, tail docking, and castrating the piglets

8. A fetus that died at 35-90 days gestation, lethal developmental abnormalities

9. A common cause of piglet death that could result from low birth weight or low environmental temperature

12. A deficiency that prevents the piglet from synthesizing an adequate amount of hemoglobin

16. Provides passive immunity for the piglets when first born