

TCC Production Vocabulary

Across

2. A plate or block design composed of several tool drawings pieced together like a puzzle to obtain the highest efficiency
4. A custom layout which consists of multiple tools of the same design
8. A communication submitted within Lotus Notes by the Customer Service Rep to have parts ship prior to an order due date or at the customer's request
12. A machine status report generated daily to indicate production status
14. A master list consisting of all production demand quantities not yet assigned to a work order
15. A work assignment opened in the AS400 system to identify the number of a combo layout

16. An added component, designed by the customer, which sticks to the blister for additional marketing purposes
17. A design feature at the bottom of a blister to help it stand on a shelf at retail
18. A tool made to help form the plastic of the blister to the mold during production

Down

1. The edge of the blister which seals to the card at the time of packaging
3. A design feature in a blister to prevent the product from spinning or rotating within the package
5. A shipping requirement to not disclose TCC as the shipper
6. A blister design along the edge of a blister to connect two sides like a clam shell

7. A plate made to add additional height to a tool/blister design that is below the required 1/4" standard

9. Another term used to identify a blister or tool can be _____

10. A packet provided to production which consists of specific production instructions for each individual tool running on a specified combo layout

11. A mold used to form the plastic into the correct blister design, normally made out of aluminum or porous material

13. A layout which consists of multiple customer parts running together on a machine