| Name: | Date: | |
|----------|-------|--|
| 10.11101 | _ ~ | |

Tech Communication

Across

- Responses to your questions in four primary ways: by personal contact by phone, mail. or websites
- 7. Enter search terms and phrases, search those exact words in sereval of each record's field
- 13. Information you have collected has some relation to geographic location
- 14. Applicability to the problem is either proved or disproved explantions or solutions
- 15. Microblogging service that lets you send and read messages of up to 140 characters in length
- 17. Need investigate, determine subject areas you must look into solve the problem
- 20. Information you have to present has some time aspect, consider organizing it
- 23. Information relevant your particular business problem should consider following topics specific
- 25. Orderly and objective communcation of factual informatuion that serves a business purpose

- 26. Strongly associated for an undetermined reason
- 27. Way of people to organize, store, manage, search, and share their favorite Web resources
- 28. Submitting another person's published work as your own with properly crediting it
- 29. Reference when you write essays or other papers
- 30. Identify the subject matter to be covered-go step further-indicate subjects

Down

- 1. Known only to the participant
- 2. Respondents who represent the group as a whole as accurately as possible
- ${\bf 3.}$ Is a writing in the third person, with I, We, or You perspectives
- 5. Can be a useful technique for researching a business problem
- 6. Technique provides a scale showing the complete range of possible attitudes on a topic

- 8. One particular observation technique that can be used in business research
- 9. Measures of central tendency, disperion, ratios, and probabilty
- 10. Does not enable statistical analysis or the application of the findings to larger populations
- 11. Known only to the reseacher and participant
- 12. Limit their collections to one type or just a few types of material
- 16. Personal interview or convene, record the interactions, cannot rely on your memory
- 18. Information you need in secondary sources, firsthand through primary research
- 19. Order they should be in
- $\begin{tabular}{ll} \bf 21. \ Short \ constructions, \ frequently \ consisting \ of \ one \ or \ two \ words \end{tabular}$
- 22. Help you extact the information you need quickly and accurately 3 primary operators: AND, OR, and NOT
- 24. Online network of library content and services