

Name: _____

Date: _____

Term 3 - Revision Natural Sciences

Across

4. The metal with the atomic number 19.

8. A fuel such as coal, oil or gas that has formed underground over millions of years from living material.

9. The element that is part of the compound table salt with the symbol Na.

11. A source of energy that is limited in supply because it cannot be replenished quickly.

12. Metal used to create nuclear energy.

13. The transfer of heat through convection currents.

17. Energy stored in a system.

18. The energy that causes a change or movement.

Down

1. Heat transfer that does not need direct contact.

2. Is a biofuel in the gaseous state and it can be collected in a specially-designed landfill.

3. Scientist that developed the Periodic table.

5. Unit of measurement for energy.

6. A classification system that is presented as a table or chart.

7. The gas with the atomic number 7.

10. Is the only metal that is in liquid form at room temperature.

14. Nuclear powerstation in South Africa.

15. The semi-metal that lies to the left of phosphorus.

16. The form of heat transfer that occurs between two objects.