

Name: _____

Date: _____

The Nature Company's Reptiles and Amphibians!

Across

1. This gecko is covered in a spotted pattern that make it look like a type of big cat?
 3. A gecko is covered in bumps or knobs?
 5. This skink uses its tongue to tell predators to stay away
 13. A lizard that lives in the desert and has a spiky tail
 15. A type of snake that gets its name from living close to farms
 17. This turtle uses a hinge to pull its shell over its head for extra protection
 20. Which chameleon has a tall sail on top of its head?
 21. This snake lives in the forest and slithers into burrows for food and shelter

22. This lizard uses its spiky beard to tell predators to stay away

23. This tortoise has plenty of red scales

Down

2. This frog frog makes a very deep ribbit that sounds like a foghorn
 4. This lizard digs underground without arms or legs
 6. This pond turtle has a special color on its tummy
 7. Which chameleon is named after a type of big cat?
 8. This snake's favorite meal is a tasty Rattlesnake
 9. This pond turtle has red in its head
 10. This gecko is known for having a tail that can store food and water?

11. This is one sec of the largest frogs species on Earth and has teeth

12. This toad may be green on top but theres a surprise underneath

14. This gecko doesn't have eyelids?

16. This toad carries a toxin in its skin

18. This snake uses mimicry to look just like a venomous Coral Snake

19. A type of skink that is covered in bright red, orange and yellow

Word Bank

Cane Toad

Red-footed Tortoise

Bearded Dragon

Yellow-bellied Slider

Leopard Gecko

Fire Skink

Fire Bellied Toad

European Legless Lizard

Veiled Chameleon

Uromastix

Giant African Bullfrog

American Bullfrog

Blue Tongued Skink

Milk Snake

Knob Tailed Gecko

Fat Tailed Gecko

Corn Snake

California Kingsnake

Crested Gecko

Pine Snake

Redeared Slider

Panther Chameleon

Eastern Box Turtle