

The Road: Pages 1 to 79

Across

- 2. Just sorted into leaves and numbered with canyons in the corners for their assembly. pg. 42
- 7. Guiding the cart on the curves with their bodies; it was the first time in a long time that the boy smiled. pg. 19
- 10. Had been there for years, the tires flat and crumpled under the rims. pg. 44
- 11. Cold and gray and heavy in the scavenged bowl of the country side. pg. 19
- 14. Three bodies hanging from the rafters, dried and dusty among the wan slates of light. pg. 17
- 15. Loving, a parent, protector and survivor.

- 16. Sheared forward off the top plate and jammed up against the back of the cab. pg. 44
- 17. Circles the Earth like a grieving mother with a lamp. pg. 32
- 18. Child, uncomplaining, and mature.
- 19. If you break the little ones, you'll break the big ones.
- 20. Fireblackened; like the shape of bears on the starkly wooden slopes. pg. 30

Down

- 1. The land rolled away into the gritty fog. pg. 19
- 3. Toy that you would wind up and it would waddle and flap its flippers. pg. 36

- 4. Dust and ash everywhere; collected half a quart of motor oil for their lamp. pg. 6
- 5. Tall clapboard houses, machinerolled metal roofs, and a log barn in a field. pg. 21
- 6. Wet, cold, dark; where they sleep.
- 8. Gray, only a few inches deep, and it is getting harder to push the cart through. pg. 30
- 9. Pattering softly on the tarp. pg. 43
- 12. Looked like a path of basalt winding through the woods. pg. 36
- 13. Wore a dress of gauze, dark hair was carried up in combs of ivory. pg. 18
