

Types of development

Across

5. A stage of the human lifespan that starts at 18 and ends at death

9. Relates to experiencing the full range of emotions & the expression of emotions

11. _____ growth occurs in the prenatal and infancy stage of the lifespan

12. Changes in the body & its systems - these can be changes in size, complexity and motor skills

13. The increase in complexity of processes in the brain such as thought, knowledge & memory

14. Large groups of muscles used for movement are referred to as _____ motor skills

Down

1. A significant skill or event occurring in a person's life. A developmental _____

2. Development begins with _____ and ends with death

3. The manipulation and coordination of small muscle groups such as those in the hands

4. Being able to speak two languages fluently

6. The type of development where there is increasing complexity of behaviour patterns used in relationships with other people

7. Early childhood is a period of _____ and steady growth

8. A newborn is referred to as a _____ for the first 28 days of life

10. _____ adulthood is the period of the lifespan between 40-65 years