

Unit 4- Political Patterns and Processes Crossword:

Across

2. The movement, creation, and deletion of electoral regions due to population shifts
5. Type of boundary that is imposed by an outside force
11. Type of boundary that is preexisting; rivers
13. Self governing political entity
14. Does not vary greatly in distance from its center to any point on its border
16. A piece of the state has a piece that protrudes from its core area
17. No longer a boundary
18. Tightly knit group of people who share a common culture
23. States that are long and thin in shape
24. A nation with no state
25. Three or more states that form an administrative structure for mutual benefits and shared goals

26. A state or part of a state that is completely surrounded by another state

28. Relocation of a capital city to indicate a strategic or economic change

29. A nation that has the same borders as a state

Down

1. Manipulating the boundaries of an electoral constituency
3. Type of boundary set after the settlements of different groups
4. Has a hole punched in it from another state
6. Type of government where all power is concentrated in one location in the state
7. Provided for the removal of attacks from trade across three countries
8. Type of force where things want to divide a state

9. Examining the relationship between geography, power, politics, and international relations

10. Supranational organization consisting of European countries; members share economic ties with each other

12. A state or part of a state that is a political extension of a far away state

15. A state which exists in several different places

19. Type of government where power is shared with local government agencies

20. Type of force that holds things together

21. Where one state takes control over another

22. Strong sense of loyalty to the state on the part of its people

27. Type of boundary found in the Convention on the Law of the Seas