

Name: _____

Date: _____

Urbanising World - Geography

Across

7. Have populations more than 200,000
8. The movement of people, factories, offices and shops away from city centres to suburban locations.
9. The process by which an increasing percentage of people live in town and cities.
10. Older cities starting to redevelop run-down inner-city towns in order to attract people to live closer to the CBD

Down

1. People want to live in these cities because of the opportunities they offer.

2. Have populations more than 10 million.
3. The result of technological change, or failure to invest or competition in other countries.
4. A pattern of population decline in inner-city areas and population growth in small towns of villages.
5. People moving out to the new 'suburbs' on the edge of the city for a cleaner environment.
6. Land becomes increasingly arid and less and less useful for farming.