

Vsion

Across

4. the fast and accurate change of focus from one distance to the next

10. It is important for the eye to process the visual image.

11. eye muscles are responsible for these skills name one that start with m

13. another word for GENERAL MOVEMENTS

14. The interpretation of images received via the eyes depends on a neurological tract is known as the

15. An acquired process that converts the image through visual sharpness to meaningful information.

16. Refers to sight or sharpness of vision or the ability to see clearly, i.e. to the sharpness or clarity of the image that reaches the retina.

17. the ability to judge the distance and speed of objects fast and accurately.

19. lowest level of the system is the
20. another word for nearsightedness

Down

1. The second level includes

2. the sportsperson's ability to keep his/her eyes on the ball regardless of the speed at which the object moves.

3. Mostly used to measure acuity of vision

5. the ability to use the eyes and hands simultaneously.

6. seeing people and objects from the corner of the eye while focusing and concentrating on a central point

7. refers to the effectivity of eye movement.

8. The third level includes

9. it lowers bodily movements and is the fourth level

12. is often found in combination with near- and farsightedness and can also interfere with visual accuracy

18. another word for farsightedness