

Name: _____

Date: _____

WHAP Chapter 27 Puzzle #1

Across

3. population rose by ____ from 1600 to 1700
12. a japanese shogun that reigned between 1600 & 1616
14. who are we? powerful lords that were required by tokugawa to live alternative years at Edo, the bakufu controlled our marriages, travel, and expenditures
19. who am i? i composed more than one hundred thousand poems and was a painter and calligrapher. i reigned at the height of the qing dynasty.
20. agricultural production ____ between 1600 & 1700
21. The confucion scholar who conquered taiwan...
24. available ____ reached its maximum productivity by the mid-seventeenth century
25. the ming government drove the ____ out of china
29. these people became prominent, and often wealthier than the ruling elites
31. the chinese had problems with the exclusivity of what religion?

Down

1. the examination system created ____ with the beat students running the country
2. neo-confucionism became the official ideology of ...
4. as shogun, leyasu established a military government known as...
5. ihara saiaiku was a poet and novelist, true or false?
6. who am i? an italian jesuit in the ming court, mastered written and oral chinese, impressed the chinese with my science and mathematics...
7. these were the centers of urban culture and including teahouses, theaters, brothels, ad public baths
8. another name for civil servants
9. shoguns became enthusiastic proponents of ____ learning by the mid-eighteenth century
10. chinese society was matriarchal, true or false?
11. this exam was intently competitive, and very few were chosen for positions after taking it
13. lower classes were also called what?

15. the largest class, esteemed by confucious for their honest labor...
16. what school prepared students for their civil service exams in beijing?
17. ____ art, medicine and science began to influence japanese scholars
18. kangxi extended to mongolia, central asia, and where else?
22. the emperor was considered the ____ because he was believed to have heavenly powers & an obligation to maintain order on the earth
23. intense ____ agriculture fed a large population
26. who are we? we overwhelmed the chinese forces and proclaimed the qing dynasty. originally we were pastoral nomads, we had an organized military force. we captured korea and mongolia first, then china...
27. dutch merchants were permitted to trade at...
28. under qianlong's rule, vietnam, burma, and nepal made vassal states out of...
30. the ming & ____ dynasties considered technological change disruptive