

Name: _____

Date: _____

Week 2 Terms and Concepts

Across

2. A cut made at the opening of the vagina to aid in delivery and avoid tearing
 4. semi-automatic behaviors
 5. placenta is covering the cervix preventing the baby to be delivered
 9. oxygen deprivation at birth
 12. below expected weight for the length of the pregnancy
 13. amount of variability in a trait that is attributed to hereditary factors
 14. the baby is in any position besides head down
 18. what medical intervention is used to induced labor through an IV drip
 19. the mother's pelvis is not large enough for the baby to pass through

20. pain medications are what type of medical intervention
 21. observable characteristics or behaviors
 22. the study of the interaction between genotypes and environment on the expression of different behaviors or attributes

Down

1. extent to which two individuals have genes in common
 3. detachment of the placenta from the uterine wall posing risk to mother and child
 6. End of stage one during labor during which frequency and strength of contractions are at their peak and the cervix is completely open

7. manipulating animal genotypes in an attempt to breed for specific attributes
 8. delivery of the umbilical cord before the baby
 10. epidural is what type of medical intervention
 11. oxygen deficiency at birth
 15. medical examination of baby 1 and 5 minutes after birth; minimum score of 7 to be considered healthy
 16. born more than or equal to 3 weeks before the due date
 17. set of genes an individual inherits