

Name: _____

Date: _____

Word Wall Matching

- | | |
|--|------------------------|
| 1. a type of literature that uses the sounds, rhythms and meanings of words to describe the world in striking and imaginative ways | A. repetition |
| 2. units of meaning that poetry lines are organized by | B. rhyme scheme |
| 3. a line or group of lines in a poem that is repeated at regular intervals | C. refrain |
| 4. occur when you change one or more words within each repetition in a poem | D. stanza |
| 5. a beat in a poem, created by the stressed and unstressed syllables in words | E. simile |
| 6. a pattern of rhythm | F. alliteration |
| 7. units of stressed and unstressed syllables; how meter is measured | G. rhyme |
| 8. the repetition of vowel and consonant sounds at the ends of words | H. rhythm |
| 9. a particular pattern of rhyme some poems follow | I. onomatopoeia |
| 10. the repetition of consonant sounds in the beginnings of words | J. imagery |
| 11. the use of any element of language – a sound, word, or phrase – more than once | K. variations |
| 12. the use of words that imitate sounds like splat, hiss, and gurgle | L. figurative language |
| 13. descriptions that appeal to the five senses that help created vivid word pictures within a poem | M. metaphor |
| 14. language that is not meant to be taken literally | N. meter |
| 15. uses the word like or as to compare two seemingly unlike things | O. poetry |
| 16. describes on thing as if it were something else | P. personification |
| 17. gives human qualities to a nonhuman subject | Q. feet |