

World Geography Second Six Weeks Review

Across

- 3. These are wet winds from the Pacific and Indian Oceans that affect the climate of SE Asia
- 5. Mountains, rift valleys and ocean trenches are created by this force
- 9. This climate averages less rainfall per year than some deserts
- 10. Daily temperature and precipitation

- 11. The _____ relationship creates a pattern where different areas of the globe receive differing amounts of sunlight
- 12. temperatures would be warm and dry on the _____ side of a mountain

Down

- 1. What is the most important factor in determining climate
- 2. This characteristic affects the climate of a city based on its position on the continent

- 4. Weather conditions over time. Most scientists say you need at least 30 years of weather records to be able to make a decision about climate type.
- 6. this biome would have constant high temperatures and a lot of rain
- 7. flood zones in India are created by _____ deposits that create low lying areas along river systems
- 8. Atmosphere, Lithosphere, Biosphere and Hydrosphere