

Name: _____

Date: _____

Writing Process

Across

- 2. it develops an explanation, an opinion, a description, or a narrative
- 5. the writer reviews the draft for the five key traits
- 7. it is a type of paragraph that tells a story
- 11. it presents a clear focus or message
- 14. it contains specific nouns, verbs, modifiers
- 16. it comes after all the body details have been presented
- 17. the most important step in the writing process

18. it creates a beginning that states your opinion, a middle that uses facts, and ending that makes a call of action

19. it is considered for sentences to flow together so the reader can follow argument

Down

- 1. during this step, the writer completes the first draft using a prewriting plan
- 3. it provides detailed picture and contains sensory details
- 4. an example of writing convention

6. it is the writer's opportunity to share his or her work

8. it provides information of a specific topic

9. it is a part of the paragraph that support the topic

10. it convinces or persuade the reader

12. it tells the reader what your paragraph is all about

13. it is a step in the writing process that involves checking for conventions

15. it reflects the writer's personality