

Zachary Killins

Across

- 1. A bunch of related worksheets
- 5. a group of letters-words most of the time-that are used as data in a spreadsheet
- 8. The way in which the data is lined
- 9. A horizontal collection of cells that make up a
- 11. The highest value possible in a set of values

- 12. the space provided by the intersection of the row and column lines
- 13. Numeric characters that can be helpful during calculations
- 15. a selected cell in worksheet that is ready for use

Down

- 2. The identifier by which the cell is formed
- 3. to make the arrangement of numbers and words in any order

- 4. A relationship of values that compares two or more values
- 6. adds all of the numbers in an area of cells
- 7. A chart that shows the relationship with values to a part of a whole
- 10. A space made entirely of columns and rows where you can work and add data
- 14. The smallest value possible in a group of numbers