

chapter 18 & 19

Across

2. relating to or favoring a concentration of power in a leader or leaders who are not responsible to the people and which calls for blind submission to authority

4. the position of not favoring or supporting either side in a dispute

7. the domination of one nation by another nation—and companies within it—that is economically more powerful

10. spheres of influence : an area within which the political and economic interests of one nation are more important than those of other nations

12. a political philosophy or system marked by strong central authority and that places the nation, and often a race, above individual rights and freedoms

13. an unoccupied area between opposing armies

14. limiting the amount of something that people are allowed to have when there is not enough for everyone to have as much as they want

16. a person or country that attacks first, without being provoked

17. ideas, allegations, and other information that is spread deliberately to further a cause or damage an opposing cause, and that is often exaggerated or false

18. a situation in which progress by either side in a contest or dispute is blocked by the other side; a draw or deadlock

19. an authorization or order given to a lesser authority by a superior one; a territory governed under such an authorization or order from the League of Nations

Down

1. the predominance of the armed forces in making and carrying out the policies of a nation; the glorification of military preparedness and armed strength

3. a nation or government in which total control is in the hands of one all-powerful ruler

5. the policy of extending a nation's power and influence by gaining control over territory through political or military means

6. someone who is not an active member of a police or military force

8. a rise in prices caused by an increase in the supply of money and a resulting decline in its value

9. the planned and systematic extermination of an entire racial, ethnic, political, or culture group

11. a relationship in which the protection and partial control of one nation is held by another, more powerful nation

15. the policy of giving in to the demands of a potential enemy in order to avoid conflict