

contract

Across

1. It is assumed that contracting parties intend to create legal relations, particularly in commercial circumstances

3. response given to a initial offer

11. when two people find compromise

13. A court decision that is considered as authority for deciding subsequent cases involving identical or similar facts, or similar legal issues.

15. people who have not reached the legal majority in their country

16. unformal contract, with which it is difficult to remember details

Down

2. The value given in each direction

4. the state of being legally responsible for something

5. put (a plan, orde, or course of action) into effect.

6. confirms that partis have agreed on the terms and reservations of the contract (there are several types)

7. formal contract

8. type of contract where both parties are bound from beginning

9. type of contract where one party is bound

10. Sections at the end of the contract containing specific provisions and documents

12. action to sign

14. the fact to propose a contract