

Name: _____

Date: _____

evidence based writing unit

Across

6. the logical relationships linking the premises of an argument that lead to the demonstration and support of a position.

7. another word for "position" sometimes used when in writing an argument to support it.

8. an important aspect of human society for which there are many different opinions about what to think or do. Many issues can be framed as a problem based question.

9. someone's stance on what to do or think about a clearly defined issue based on their perspective and understanding of it. When writing argumentative essays, one's position may be expressed as a thesis.

10. the topical and textual facts, events, and ideas from which the premises of an argument arise and are cited to support them.

11. the practical and logical consequences of a position which has been supported by evidence based argumentation

Down

1. the claims of an argument that are linked together logically using evidence and reasoning to support a position/thesis.

2. the logical relationship among ideas, including claims/premises and evidence

3. A personal conclusion that arises from and is supported by textual and / or topical evidence

4. a personal conclusion about a text, topic , event or idea

5. How someone understands and views an issue based on his/her current relationship to it and analysis of the issue